EUROPEAN NEWS.

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

NORFOLK, Va., March 3.

A terrific gale, accompanied with sleet and snow, has prevailed all day. The steamers advertised to sail to-day defer their departure until the storm abates. The high tides caused by the gale covered many of the wharves with two feet of water. The telegraph lines on the Norfolk side of the river were prostrated by the storm.

NEW YORK, March 3.

Garibaldi has accepted with thanks the honorary membership tendered him by Section Thirty-five of the International Society of New York. His letter bears the date of Caprera, February 6. The organization has arranged for a mass meeting in Tompkin's Square on the 7th instant to advocate the employment by the Government of all persons out of work.

The seventeenth anniversary of the accession of Alexander to the Russian throne was celebrated by a solemn Te Deum in the Russian Greek Chapel yesterday.

WASHINGTON, March 3.

The Secretary of the Treasury has authorized the Assistant Treasurer at New York to purchase one million in bonds on Thursday, the 14th, and one million on Thursday, the 28th instant. The Secretary sells no gold this month in consequence of heavy payments to be made on account of the called bonds, which fall due on the 6th instant to the extent of forty millions.

ST. LOUIS, March 3.

A special from Topeka, Ks., to the Democrat, says the call which has been issued for the State Convention to send delegates to the Liberal Republican Convention at Cincinnati, has not met with success. Its originators expected the Auditor of State, Thoman, and Senator Haas of Leavenworth, both Germans, to sign the call, and it was boasted that the whole German element would follow the movement; but after a week's work but few have fallen into line, and according to the present prospects not a quarter of the German vote in the State will leave the Republican party.

The Secretary of State has not yet been furnished with a copy of the concurrent resolutions, which directed him to forward a copy of the testimony taken by the Investigating Committee to the Vice President of the United States, and lay it before the Senate. It would seem as though an organized effort to keep important testimony out of the way during the investigation, is kept up to prevent anything official from going to Washington. Numerous efforts have been made to get hold of the testimony on a pretended wish to copy it, since it went into the hands of the printers, but it is believed that the real object was to destroy portions of it.

PITTSBURG, March 3.

Intelligence has been received here of a horrible outrage near Franklin, Pa., on Thursday last. Amos McKinley, a lad of seventeen, while on his way to school, was attacked by Patrick Tracy and choked into insensibility and then brutally maimed. The lad's offense was, that he had a few evenings previously escorted to a singing school a young lady who had discarded Tracy as a lover.

NEW YORK, March 3.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe met with a severe accident on February 29, at her home in Mandolin, Fla., by falling backward from a table on which she was standing to arrange a window curtain, her head striking the sharp edge of a bedstead and her back hitting a bath-tub. She was picked up insensible, but the latest accounts indicate that she is likely to recover.

TERRA HAUTE, Ind., March 3.

The Journal of this city will publish tomorrow morning a letter from Hon. D. W. Voorhees, in which he peremptorily declines to be a Democratic candidate for Governor of Indiana.

SCHUYLKILL HAVEN, Pa., March 3.

Mrs. Kramer, who was brutally beaten at the time her husband was murdered in Washington Township, died this morning.

HARTFORD, March 3.

The Windsor Locks murderers, Scott and Charest, have been held for trial at the March term of the Superior Court and committed to jail in this city.

WASHINGTON, March 3.

The Japanese Embassy thus far have made no calls, etiquette preventing them from doing so until they shall have been officially received by the President.

The Executive Council of the National Board of Trade has been in session in this city during the past week, and has had under consideration various questions on which the board acted at its annual meeting in St. Louis in December last. The council has memorialized Congress in favor of the appointment of a commissioner, to be appointed in behalf of the Dominion of Canada to negotiate a new treaty of reciprocity between Canada and the United States on a broader and more comprehensive basis than that on which the former treaty rested. Some improvements to the law of July 14, 1870, relating to direct importations to interior cities, in order to make the Act more efficient, have been recommended, and it has urged the formation of a Sanitary Board of Appeal to protect our citizens and our foreign commerce from the irrepressible control of local quarantine officers. It has presented the resolutions adopted by the board at St. Louis in favor of a gradual and moderate contraction of the greenback currency, and of a revision of the tariff system of the country, so that a monopoly may be checked and a healthy competition in trade and manufactures established, and native industry protected by cheapening the necessaries and comforts of life to the masses of the people. The council has appeared before both Committess on Commerce of Congress, and have represented the views of the board on the shipping question. The board discriminates between the ship-owning and ship-building interests, and urges that while many complications exist in connection with the plans proposed for the relief of the latter, the course to be pursued in reference to the former is perfectly simple and easy, there being a deficiency of tonnage. The judgment of the board is that every barrier should be removed to its acquisition by American merchants, wherein they find that which is suitable for their purposes. The council has therefore presented a memorial, drawn with great care and in accordance with the expressed and unanimous opinion of the board, asking for permission to American ship-owners to register under their own flag, for purposes of foreign trade, steamers and sailing vessels wherever built, including all tonnage alienated to foreign flags during the w r so far as the owners may desire this. The memorial also recommends the withdrawal of duty from bonded warehouses of ship stores and supplies and of articles needed for repairs.

Gentlemen in prominent positions express the opinion that the articles which are being elegraphed hence and published in the newspapers indicating a difference of opinion in the Cabinet on the answer which has been sent to the British views on the Treaty of Washington are calculated to weaken the position of the United States abroad. In point of fact there has not been a shade of difference of opinion as to the form or conclusion of the answer which goes out. It is very nearly in the identical language in which it was prepared and submitted in Cabinet by the Secretary of State. It has been ascertained that the few changes made therein were verbal, in order to give the clearest expression of thought which it was designed to convey. The consideration of the paper at the successive Cabinet meetings was, it appears, rather an excuse for delay in its being forwarded, in the belief that time was having its effect in allaying the excitement in Great Britain. This is not regarded as an unfortunate circumstance.

The appropriation for expenses of the United States Courts for the current year is exhausted and no payments can be made to their officers until the appropriation shall be made by Congress. There is a clause in the Deficiency bill appropriating $1,000,000 for this purpose. The bill will probably be passed at an early day.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.

On Saturday afternoon a party of roughs, including the notorious Dan Redding, attempted to interfere in the business of the McClure-Gray Senatorial Committee, but were ejected from the room, several of the party being roughly handed.

The Centennial Commissioners, representatives from twenty-one States being now here, will hold an informal meeting at the Continental to-morrow moring, after which they will be welcomed to the city at Independence Hall by the Mayor. General Hawley, one of the commissioners, will respond.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 3.

Rear Admiral Boggs continues ill at his residence here, but his condition is not considered dangerous.

FROM EUROPE.

LONDON, March 3.

The Observer to-day, in an article on the Alabama claims, expresses the opinion that, in case England should renounce the Treaty of Washington, the United States would take no immediate action in consequence, but would insist on the validity of the right hitherto claimed for American seamen to fish in Canadian waters, and on that point would meet with no opposition from England.

The reply of the American Government to Granville's note is expected to reach London in a week from Tuesday.

Russell Gurney, of the British-American Mixed Commission, will leave New York in the steamer of the 30th instant for home, but intends to return to America in November to complete the work of the commission.

PARIS, March 3.

The ex-Prefect of the Department of the Eure, charged with the embezzlement of funds for the relief of France, is now on trial at Rouen. He was appointed to off g under the Empire, since the fall of which he has been conspicuous in defense of the ex-Emperor. Ponyer Quertier, Minister of Finance, appeared before the Court last week as a witness, and his testimony was strongly in favor of the accused. His conduct in this matter produced a feeling of great dissatisfaction on the part of some of his colleagues in the Cabinet, and it is understood that M. Dufanra and other members threaten to leave it unless he resigns. A Ministerial crisis is believed to be impending from other causes. In addition to the conflict between the Legislative and Executive Departments on Catholic petitions and questions of adjournment, a difference has arisen between Thiers and a committee of the Assembly on a bill proposed by Minister Lefranc, granting the Government additional powers for the control of the press. The committee insist on an amendment, giving journals the right to discuss the Constitution, which the President is not willing to concede.

A correspondent of La Liberte newspaper reports an interview with the private secretary of the Count de Chambord, in the course of which the secretary said his master was willing to risk his life to save France.

NEW YORK, March 3.

A World special from London to-day says there is the best reasons to believe that the British Government is prepared to consent to allow the arbitration of the Alabama claims to proceed under the agreement that in no event shall the sum awarded for damages exceed a certain stipulated amount.

CHEMICAL FLUID,

For CLEANSING THE SCALES FROM BOILERS AND TUBES.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

HAVING TRIED THE CHEMICAL FLUID MANUFACTURED AND SOLD BY A. CURRY, IN ONE OF THE LOCOMOTIVES OF THE VIRGINIA AND TRUCKEE RAILROAD COMPANY, I do hereby certify that it does the work of removing the scales most effectually, and is the best article I have ever tried. I have also made a thorough test in regard to its injuring iron, brass, or other metals. At the request of Mr. Curry, I took five gallons of the Fluid, put it in a small boiler, into which I put a turned bolt with nut and thread-cut, also a piece of brass, boiling the whole for three weeks, night and day. After boiling away all the Fluid, I washed the articles and found all sound, and as good as when put into the Fluid. I am satisfied that it will not injure Boilers or Tubes, and most cheerfully recommend it to all persons using Steam Boilers, for cleaning them and preventing scales. J. W. BOWKER, M. M.,

FOR SIGHT IS PRICELESS, BUT THE DIAMOND SPECTACLES will preserve it.

We now offer a Glass to the public which is pronounced by the most celebrated opticians of the world to be the most perfect, natural artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under our own supervision, at our own manufactory in New Haven, and are so constructed that the Core or Centre of the Lense comes directly in front of the eye, producing a Clear and Distinct Vision, as in the Natural Healthy Sight, and prevents all unpleasant sensations, such as a Glimmering and Wavering of Sight, Dizziness, etc., peculiar to all others in use.

These Glasses are manufactured from Minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name, "Diamond," on account of their Hardness and Brilliancy.

These Glasses are mounted in the finest manner, at our own manufactory, in all styles of Gold, Silver, steel, Rubber and Shell Frames, of the Best Quality.

Their durability cannot be surpassed, and their finish is such as will suit the most fastidious.

For sale by the principal Opticians and Jewelers throughout the country. Manufactured by J. E. SPENCER & CO., Practical Opticians, New York.

THE NEWS.

The official reception of the Japanese Embassy at Washington was a grand affair. The speeches of Iwakura and the President are given in our dispatches.

The New York Custom-house Investigating Committee had General Porter at Washington under examination for five hours yesterday. The important points of his testimony are telegraphed.

A terrific gale and storm of snow and sleet occurred at Norfolk on Sunday.

Only a portion of the Germans in Kansas sustain Schurz.

Dan W. Voorhees refuses peremptorily to become the Democratic candidate for Governor of Indiana at the approaching election.

Garibaldi accepts honorary membership from the New York Internationals, though he recently took occasion to say that he did not countenance that organization in Italy.

A fire at Leominster, Mass., destroyed the comb factory of the Union Comb Company. Loss, $100,000, and 150 hands are thrown out of employment.

A Berlin correspondent of the London Times telegraphs that it is thought in Berlin that the decision of the Emperor of Germany, Arbitrator in the San Juan boundary case, will be adverse to Great Britain.

At the firemen's election in this city yesterday, James Malone was chosen Chief Engineer (re-elected); P. J. Bell was elected First Assistant Engineer and William F. Hammill, Second Assistant Engineer.

LET US HAVE FAIR PLAY.

As Storey county made no offer for the erection of the State University here, we can regard the inducements presented by Ormsby, Washoe, Douglas and Elko counties without bias. The Carson Register says:

Douglas county offers $10,000, with either of the following parcels of land, and whatever improvements may be thereon; sixty acres of land, agricultural, and one hundred acres of timber land—the property of J. W. Haines; forty acres of land belonging to Fred Frevert; twenty acres of land with the residence of S. A. Kinsey; 266 acres of land, with house thereon, belonging to Joseph Jones; two hundred and twenty acres of land with house, the property of Warren Wasson. J. W. Haines of Douglas county, offers forty acres of agricultural land; twenty acres of wet bottom land and one hundred acres of timber land.

The citizens of the town of Elko offer $28,000, with four blocks of land and use of school house thereon, in the town of Elko, and one hundred sixty acres of land near said town.

Ormsby county offered a considerable quantity of land within the corporate limits of Carson, and $40,000 for the erection of a suitable building. Washoe county offered very substantial inducements in lands, and about $12,000 in cash. The residence of Theodore Winters, in Washoe Valley, with sixty acres of land, was among the landed inducements offered by Washoe county. The Register says:

By carefully reading the entire abstract of the proceedings, every unprejudiced mind must arrive at the conclusion that Ormsby county has made the best and highest bid. The building proposed to be erected in Ormsby county will cost, at the least, $40,000, and if undertaken, will surely be completed. The stone quarry, at the State Prison, will turn out all the stone needed, and, as we have everything at hand, Ormsby county has a thousand fold the best reason to expect the location.

The Ormsby county offer is very substantial in appearance; but was it made in good faith? Who are the men who subscribed the $40,000 donated? Will they pay their subscriptions, or will the next Legislature, should the University be located in Carson, be called upon to meet the deficiency? We know of one man, at least, whose name was placed without his consent upon the list of subscribers, who declares that he will not pay one dollar of the amount to which his name stands pledged. Now, let us have fair play in this matter. The offers of Elko, Washoe and Douglas have been made, we have reason to believe, in good faith, and we have a right to be assured that Ormsby county has acted in the same spirit of fairness.

NEW POSTAL REGULATIONS.

We learn from the Washington Chronicle that, by a recent decision of the Postoffice Department, the law regarding the sending of newspapers by mail has been more clearly defined than it has heretofore stood. No name or memorandum can be made on a newspaper inside of the wrapper on which the address is written. It is barely possible to mark an article with pen or pencil. More than this subjects the paper to letter postage, and the violator of the law to a fine. No printed card, hand-bill or advertisement, no written notice, letter or slip of any kind whatsoever must be folded in the paper. To do any of these things is to violate the law. Printed slips pasted on the outside or folded in papers or periodicals, soliciting notices, are also violations of the law. Senders of transient papers can send bundles or printed matter by weight, on transient postage charges, but must not send any written matter in such bundles. Miscellaneous matter (embracing pamphlets, occasional publications, trancient newspapers, hand-bills, posters, book manuscript, proof-sheets, corrected or not, maps, prints, engravings, sheet music, blanks, flexible patterns, sample cards, phonographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes or wrap, pers, cards, paper, plain or ornamental photographic representations of different types, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions,) must be prepaid as follows: On one package to one address, not over four ounces, two cents; over four ounces and not over eight ounces, four cents; over eight ounces and not over twelve ounces, six cents; over twelve ounces and not over sixteen ounces, eight cents. The weight of packages of seeds, cuttings, roots and scions is limited to thirty-two ounces. In view of these new regulations, we take pleasure in informing newspaper publishers in the East who are in the habit of applying for notices, that the next journal coming to this office with any such request will be handed over to the United States District Attorney. All we ask is abuse, and we will not submit to an application from our contemporaries for any other kind of notice.

DEVINE, alias the "Chicken," recently convicted of murder in San Francisco, has a fine record. According to the Call, since 1865 he has been in custody for the following offenses:

Fighting, 1; assault with deadly weapon, 1; malicious mischief, 3; carrying concealed weapons, 2; assault, 2; assault to murder, 1; violating city ordinance, 1; attempt to rob, 1; misdemeanor, 3; using vulgar language, 6; assault and battery, 13; drunk, 30; on bench warrants as defaulting defendant, 3; robbery, 3; surrendered by bondsmen, 1; kidnapping, 1; burglary, 1; mayhem, 1; petty larceny, 2; disturbing the peace, 1; grand larceny, 1; murder, 1. Total, 79.

THE Eureka Sentinel understands from some source "that the leading Democrats of Pioche are against the 'Passive' action recently taken by the Democratic Central Committee at Carson. Zinc Barnes, Mike McCluskey, Judge Pitzer and Colonel Thornton, we presume, do the principal manipulating in Democratic matters down that way."

A CINCINNATI paper (the Times) remarks: "It is a sad commentary upon the changed spirit of Horace Greeley that the Democratic State Committee of New Hampshire are circulating the New York Tribune as a campaign document."

WEST VIRGINIA went Democratic last year, and her Government cost her $223,737 more than in 1870.

WHO FIRST NOMINATED GRANT

Colonel Forney publishes an account of the manner in which General Grant was first brought out as a Presidential candidate, and attributes it to an article in the Washington Chronicle in November, 1867. The St. Louis Democrat says this is not correct, and adds: "The first man to nominate General Grant was the Hon. Ben Eggleston, of Cincinnati, in a speech delivered from the second story window of the Cincinnati Gazette office, on the night of the 8th of October, 1867. There had been a State election in Ohio that day, and as the returns began to come in, it looked very much as if Judge Thurman, the Democratic candidate, had defeated General Hayes, the Republican candidate. Subsequently it turned out that Hayes was elected by a small majority. The same day General Sam. Cary had very unexpectedly beaten Mr. Richard Smith, of the Cincinnati Gazette, for Congress. Mr. Smith had, by a strictly moral canvass, as well as by the well known virtue and purity of his private life, united the worldly-minded element against him, and been badly defeated by General Cary. Ben Eggleston was called upon to give consolation to the waiting multitude in front of the Gazette office, and he announced that the next Presidential candidate of the Republican party would be General Grant. This was received with loud shouts of applause, and the newspapers of the country very soon took the matter up and seconded the motion with great vigor and unanimity." Now, the Democrat is not correct. General Grant was first nominated for the Presidency in Nevada Territory, in the Spring of 1864. The writer of this paragraph was at that time a member of the Territorial Council. During a joint convention of the two Houses—we have forgotten now for what purpose—an informal ballot was taken for the next Presidency. Two votes were cast for General Grant, and we distinctly remember who cast them. One, accompanied by a neat little speech, was given by A. W. Baldwin, afterwards United States District Judge for the District of Nevada, then a member of the Council and now deceased, and the other by William H. Clagett, then a member of the Assembly and now a Delegate in Congress from Montana Territory. The vote was noted by the press, and thus became a matter of record.

THE WHITE PINE SENATORIAL SNARL.

The White Pine News insists that, as the Senators from White Pine county did not decide either before the election or during the meeting of the Legislature, which of the two was entitled to the long term and which to the short, there is one vacancy to fill in the Senate from that county next Fall, if not two. In pursuance of the subject, the News of last Friday says:

Our friends of the Silver State agree with our position concerning the case of Senator Cleaveland—that under Section 8, Article iV. of the State Constitution he has forfeited his place as Senator. In the case of bills, they take issue with us—and with as good legal opinion as can be procured in the State. Since writing our first article on the subject, we have the opinion of Judge Tilford, and that of Wm. F. Anderson; and by the latter we are assured that to his positive knowledge Judge Garber, of the Supreme Court, has expressed the same opinion—all assuring us that we were right in saying that at least one of the Senatorships must be declared forfeited for the default of the two Senators in not drawing for cross terms. Mr. Anderson goes further, and says that to his mind both Senators clearly forfeited their places by such default. He takes the position that no public servant can take advantage of his own delinquency neither to prolong nor enlarge his official power nor pay.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

A Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial dishes up the following Washington gossip:

A very spirited and interesting woman has just been added to the Cabinet circle, in the person of Mrs. Williams, wife of the Attorney General. She was a widow when she married Williams, a widower. Mrs. Williams is above the medium size, not far from forty years of age. She has light eyes, a good figure, and a very vivacious and inviting address. The Attorney General has taken a house on I street, which is generally thought to be the most elegant part of Washington. Williams himself is a man of common sense, and an excellent legal mind. He wields a decisive pen, and never puts his foot erroneously anywhere. He is not possessed of any considerable means, and, in fact, it may be said that Williams, Belknap, Robeson and Boutwell are all poor. Boutwell sits at an ordinary boarding-house table, and is said to save fully one-half his salary. He has a shrewd, economical, New England wife, who takes care that the vanities of this world shall not consume his substance. The rich men of the Cabinet are Delano, whom some allege worth a million, and Fish, whose family is hereditarily well fixed. Creswell, including his official salary, has probably an income of $15,000 a year. The Solicitor General, Bristow, is a young man, without fortune, but of the highest order of personal character and true manliness. President Grant, it is stated by those who know him best, is now worth about $200,000, some of which is well invested and brings him good dividends.

PEN AND SCISSORS.

A FEW nights ago, says the Sacramento Union of March 2, some hunters spread a net over the drainage canal, a few miles below the city, to catch the geese that gathered there during the hours of darkness. They were successful in the enterprise, catching quite a number, which they brought to the city alive and sold. The person that brought the fowls loaded them into his wagon and made a tour of the city, offering them for sale as tame young geese at the rate $1 each. As they appeared to be fat and nice, a number were sold to different parties singly or in pairs, the purchasers not discovering the cheat until the geese were being prepared for the oven. Among those thus made game of was one of our city officers. Although a good Cook, he didn't recognize the quality of his goose till he came to eat it. But the worst sold of all was a man who, after the wagon-load had been sold, bought the remainder "at a bargain," saying that he thought he might as well raise a few geese—it wouldn't be much trouble. He took them home, turned them loose in his lot, and found that it really was not much trouble to raise them—in fact they raised themselves, and with such ease and swiftness, that he remained staring after them in open-mouthed amazement for some minutes, the expression of his face gradually changing, however, to one of the most intense disgust as the truth began to dawn upon him.

THE explorations which have recently been made in the Emma mine, says the Salt Lake Tribune of March 2, instead of reaching its limits, have proven it to be more extensive than was believed. It has been thought by many that the large amount of ore which it has turned out for the past eighteen months might exhaust the deposit, but such does not now appear to be the case. A shaft has been sunk seventy feet below all levels, and the same body or vein of ore continues with a moderate increase in value. It is estimated by the gentlemen who are now here from England for the purpose of inspecting it, that there is ore enough now in sight to pay 18 per cent. on the value of the mine ($5,000,000). It is thought by those who are well acquainted with the mine that it could be made to pay a great deal heavier per cent., but the company prefer to take their time in working it. The Emma mine company has shipped thirty-four car loads of ore within the last week for Liverpool, England. They still have on hand at the mouth of the canyon and at the mine ready for the cars, one thousand tons in sacks. About thirty tons are being raised daily.

WE are pained to learn, says the Corinne Reporter of March 2, of the untimely death of Mr. Harris, a conductor on the Union Pacific Railroad. The deceased met his death last Tuesday near Rawlins Station, in trying to jump from the train while in motion to open a switch. In preparing to jump the train gave a sudden lurch, when he fell between the platforms of the cars on to the track, the train passing over and mangling him in a shocking manner. Mr. Harris was one of the conductors in the late blockade, and won the universal esteem of the passengers on his train by his untiring zeal to secure their comfort. His death will be sincerely lamented, not only by his late fellow-travelers, but by the railroad company, which he served as an efficient, prompt and energetic conductor.

FROM Norm Wines, who came up the other day, says the Eureka Sentinel of February 29, we learn that ten Indians have died in the valley near Eureka, and eighteen more at Cold Creek. Mr. Wines questioned the Indians met on the route and they assured him the disease of which they died was not the small-pox, but seemed to result from poison of some sort. Their bodies swelled up to enormous size, and death was speedy. We publish these facts to quiet the rumors which have obtained general circulation that small-pox was the cause of the mortality. How or where the poison was obtained, if poison it was, we are not informed. We have seen but few Indians in this vicinity for many days.

ON the 20th of February five white men and two Chinamen escaped from the Idaho Penitentiary. They made a rush on the two guards, locked them in a cell, and taking some blankets and about two days' provisions, took to the mountains. The snow being deep, however, they were soon overhauled by Sheriff McClintock, of Boise county, and all but one were recaptured. Those who escaped were John Black, Al. Priest, Cook, French, an Owyhee prisoner and two Chinamen. Black had his feet so badly frozen while wandering about through the snow that amputation it is thought will be necessary.

THE Hamilton stage, when about one mile from town last night, says the Pioche Record of February 29, was stopped and robbed of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s treasure box. The driver states that there was at least four in the party, who compelled him to turn the stage about and drive toward Hamilton. The passengers were not molested. It is impossible to approximate the amount of treasure the box contained. The robbers are supposed to have arrived in Pioche in advance of the stage.

SOME days ago, says the Eureka Sentinel of March 1, Mrs. O'Connor sent her two children below to attend school. Shortly after their arrival at the seminary one of them was taken with the small-pox and died, and before the bereaved mother could leave her home in Eureka, the other child was also dead. Almost frantic with grief, the poor woman, who looked upon her children as only a loving mother can, started below to look after the remains of her lost ones.

THE death of Shotwell, near Eureka, a few days ago, seems to be wrapped in mystery as to the cause. The first account made it appear that Shotwell had perished, four miles out on the Spring Valley road. Since then, persons from Eureka have stated here that Shotwell had been detected a night or two before, trying to rob a safe in Eureka; and that when found dead his neck was broken. These persons think he was quietly hung by patrons of the 601.

CHARLES M. CROSBY, says the Reno Journal of March 2, the young man who obtained money from J. C. Hagerman upon a forged telegram, purporting to have been received from Martin & Cullin, of Steamboat Springs, pleaded guilty to the indictment found against him by the Grand Jury, and was sentenced by Judge Harris, on Thursday last, to one year in the State Prison.

THE Upper Sacramento is represented as being very high, running over its natural banks where not protected by levees. From Colusa and above that place to the bay, the water not thus confined has spread over the low plains, making one vast lake, or rather an inland sea.

THE San Joaquin Republican says: We are glad to record the success of Captain Zimmerman of the Chin du Wan. His boat is proving a great benefit to the people of Stockton and the San Joaquin Valley in keeping down the rates of freights and fares.

THE two stage robbers, Patterson and Bohig, who were brought to Elko from Mineral Hill a little over a week ago by Deputy Sheriff Woods, were indicted by the last Grand Jury and had their trial set for the 19th instant.

I. J. ROLFE and Josiah Rodgers of Nevada City have received a patent for their process for the distillation of brandy from manzanita berries.

THE Petaluma Argus says there are at present over 1,100 tons of wheat along the line of railroad in Sonoma county awaiting shipment.

THE new county bridge across the Santa Rosa Creek, just below the railroad bridge, is approaching completion. It will cost $28,000.

THE Eureka Sentinel says there have been forty-five cases of small-pox in that town, thirteen of which have proved fatal.

THE Indianapolis Evening Journal says: "Rhodes, of the Louisville Commercial, passed through the city yesterday, having spent sixteen hours between Louisville and this city. The colossus was a perfect wreck."

THE Nashville Banner says: "It is mentioned, as a significant fact, that the young lady most admired by the Grand Duke at the recent ball in Memphis wore a ten-dollar dress."

A TREE in New Hampshire stands on the corner of two counties—Rockingham and Strafford,—and on the borders of three towns—Epping, Nottingham and Lee.

A LADY of New Albany, Ind., while traveling in Germany, was betrothed to a German Baron, and a grand wedding is shortly in prospect at the home of the lady.

A WRITER on Postoffice matters thinks that there would be less complaint if the public would only be as careful in directing letters as the post is in delivering them.

IN sentencing Seth Johnson, the Treasury thief, Chief Justice Carter said, "I will imprison no one in the wretched jail of this District longer than one year."

A. B. MULLETT, Supervising Architect of the Treasury, his wife and two of their children, are ill of scarlet-fever. They all have the mild type of the disease.

AT an Illinois party in Sandoval, a notice was posted that any man who so far forgot himself and the year as to ask a young lady to dance, should be fined $5.

THE Boston Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals offers prizes to Public School scholars for compositions on the subject of kindness to animals.

THE Pest-house on Salter's Island, N. H., was built in 1749. Fifty graves are still discernible there, only one of which was ever marked by a head-board.

THE wife and oldest son of Hon. Henry Cooper, United States Senator from Tennessee, died recently, the deaths occurring only a few days apart.

B. CORBETT, the man who is said to have killed Booth, is dead.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,
For Purifying the Blood.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose of Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhea arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

OPEN—BLOCKADE REMOVED.—We are informed that the bulkhead across the drift on the 1,100-foot level of the Ophir was yesterday removed—or rather that a drift has been cut around one end of it, by means of which visitors may enter to the mysterious regions beyond. As near as we can learn a well-defined east clay wall was found to have been cut through and a streak of rock found which shows considerable silver. But this streak was of small size, when there set in a species of rock in regard to the exact nature of which the "doctors" disagree. Some seem to think it is "west country," others that it is a sort of vein matter, and still others talk about a "horse." The truth of the matter would seem to be that the lead, just at the point where it was cut by the drift is "pinched." This being the case, the fact of finding any silver at all at that particular point may be considered encouraging. A drift will now be started south along the east clay, in the hope that by going in that direction the fissure will be found to widen, when pay may be looked for. The majority of the experts feel pretty confident that in going south a body of ore will be found, and the Ophirites already begin to look quite cheerful. We hear, however, that efforts will be made at the next session of our Legislature to procure the passage of a "bulkhead bill," which will probably spoil the fun of some of our superintendents.

EXCITEMENT IN WASHOE VALLEY.—Last Friday and Saturday there was a good deal of excitement in Washoe and Steamboat Valleys in regard to the incendiary burning of several buildings. First was burnt a house belonging to Mr. Cullen, proprietor of the Steamboat Springs House; next the Temelic mill, and last a large barn on Brown's ranch, containing several hundred tons of hay. The last fire was the feather that broke the back of the Washoe camel. The ranchmen and settlers rallied in force and scoured the country in all directions in search of the suspected incendiary. The man upon whom suspicion rests is a worthless fellow, who has been prowling about the neighborhood for some weeks, sleeping in unoccupied houses and leading a sort of Gipsy life. He made thieving a regular business and when he could not sell what he had stolen he would give it away. He had with him as his constant companion a small terrier dog, and it was noticed that this dog was trotting about Brown's Station shortly before the fire broke out in the barn. Some of the settlers scouted out as far as the hills north of this city and a party of them visited Devil's Gate, having heard that there was some one camped in a tunnel in that vicinity. At last accounts the settlers had not succeeded in finding the object of their search.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.—Evening before last the locomotive "Carson" went astray and came near being smashed up, just as she was leaving Carson City. It appears that some malicious person displaced a switch, thus turning the train off the main track and sending it to Carson Creek where it ran upon a trestlework bridge. The locomotive smashed the bridge up pretty badly and was itself considerably damaged. The crashing of the bridge timbers was heard at the distance of half a mile, and in the town it was at first supposed that the accident was much worse than it proved to be. Luckily no one on the train was injured. Yesterday morning another accident occurred near the Mound House by which the locomotive "Humboldt" and tender were thrown from the track and down an embankment. The engine plowed down a considerable amount of the embankment in going over. The road was damaged to such an extent that trains were unable to pass the point. The men jumped from the train when they saw what was going to happen, and all escaped without injury. It seems that this accident was also caused by a switch being left open when it should have been closed.

A BAPTIZED SUPERINTENDENT.—Mr. King, the newly-appointed Superintendent of the Eureka Mill, Carson River, went down day before yesterday to take charge of that big institution. After leaving the railroad he, with some others, started down to the mill by way of the narrow gauge road, which, below the big dam, runs over the top of the flume. The hand car on which the party was going down to the mill ran off the track, and bumping along over the ties, threw Mr. King into the flume. He went in all over, and the baptism came near being a serious matter for him, as the water in the flume was running at the rate of five miles per hour. After being carried along a considerable distance, however, he managed to grasp the side of the flume and hold on until he was pulled out. The men at the mill say that their new Superintendent can go right along with business, as he has been regularly initiated.

JUDGE YOUNG'S COURT.—The following cases were disposed of in this Court yesterday: Juan Aguiliar, arrested by officers Hayton and Cummings for being drunk; fined $12. P. Rumney, arrested by officer Enders for being drunk; fined $12. J. Doyte, arrested by officers Hayton and Enders for being drunk; fined $12.

EUREKA MILL.—This "daddy of all the mills" will start up in a few days for regular business. They have already had the machinery in operation for the purpose of turning off the pulleys and the like work. The narrow gauge from the Virginia and Truckee Railroad is completed and ores will soon be sent over it to the mill.

MAKING HIMSELF USEFUL.—The swelling in Beany Irwin's nose having subsided sufficiently to allow of his getting his boots on, he is again out going about doing good. We met him yesterday with an armful of books, and he informed us that he had collected something over fifty volumes for the new library of the Public School.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held this evening at 7 o'clock.

FIREMEN'S ELECTION.—The firemen's election yesterday passed off very quietly and without fighting or rows of any kind. For Chief Engineer there was no contest; Jas. Malone, the incumbent for the last year, being the only candidate. In order to make the affair a little interesting there was some contest for the offices of First and Second Assistants. The following is the result of the election—the vote shows that not more than half of the firemen in the city voted: James Malone, for Chief Engineer, received 288 votes; P. J. Bell, for First Assistant, 255; W. T. Simpson, First Assistant, 45; W. T. Hammell, Second Assistant, 185; M. Ross, Second Assistant, 103; D. O'Neil, Second Assistant, 15; scattering, 4. At night, after the result of the election was known, the firemen had a good time among themselves. With a band of music at their head they marched through town, visiting the various engine houses and jubilating generally. Of course liquid refreshment everywhere flowed, and there was the usual amount of speech-making, toasting and singing—three things without which no fireman can properly enjoy himself.

THE LITERARY ENTERTAINMENT.—The entertainment given at the Opera House last night by Dr. Gates was well attended and all present found abundant food for mirth. Some of his recitations and delineations were well given and heartily applauded, while others showed that he had given them but little attention previous to his appearing in them on the stage. Thus his Yankee piece was read from a book, and being obliged to use both hands in holding it, he was unable to gesticulate as effectively as he would otherwise have done, though by a dextrous use of his right leg he managed to overcome this difficulty to some extent and to throw some force into passages which otherwise would have been somewhat tame. The doctor worked vigorously and earnestly to please his audience, and we venture to say that all went away satisfied that Virginia was bound they should have the worth of their money.

ALARM OF FIRE.—About 11½ o'clock last night the Gould and Curry whistle sounded an alarm of fire, which was responded to by the other whistles and fire bells, and soon the whole Fire Department was in motion. The fire was in one of the bedrooms in the upper story of the Gould and Curry boarding house, as we were informed, but was extinguished by the judicious application of a few buckets of water, and before any great damage was done. As a strong smell of pulu was observed to pervade the vicinity, it is probable that the fire was in a bed. None of the engines got off C street before word came that the fire was out. The streets were in a frightful condition for the passage of the men and engines—as nasty as they possibly could have been with any bottom at all.

A CHINAMAN DISEMBOWELED.—About 5 o'clock last evening a row occurred in a gambling house in the Chinese quarter of the town, during which one of the Celestial sports received a frightful slash across the abdomen with a bowie-knife. His bowels came out at the wound, and it is thought he is ticketed for the Flowery Kingdom by the aerial line. The Chinaman who did the cutting at once took to his heels, minus his coat and hat, and when last seen was north of the city in the neighborhood of the Catholic Cemetery. He is described as an old man, wearing a mustache. Chief Downey and one or two policemen went in pursuit of the fellow, but night coming on they failed to find any traces of the fugitive.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Frank C. Farington, our old "local" friend of some years ago, who has been for two years past in Japan amusing the Tycoons, cocoons and things, yesterday arrived in this city, his old paradeground. He is looking exceedingly well, and was welcomed back by a procession that reached from Union street to as far beyond Wells, Fargo & Co.'s as we could see—at least the sidewalk for that distance was filled with people, and as they passed the "given point" where he stood, all stopped to shake hands with him.

ANOTHER mule was yesterday sewed up in canvas and lowered into the "dark profound" of the Belcher. The new slave of the mine takes the place of "Mary Jane Simpson," which gallus old gal has been hoisted out and treated to a glimpse of sunshine once more. Those who saw the mule which was lowered yesterday say he was sewed up so tightly that he could neither wiggle his ears or wink his eyes, and presented a comically helpless and resigned appearance.

SHOW WINDOW SMASHED.—In passing along the sidewalk on South C street last night, at the time of the alarm of fire, an engine ran into the show window of Morrill's drug store and carried away a considerable portion of it. A lot of bottles and the like were spilled out, and for the moment the crash of glass was tremendous.

CHIMNEYS BLOWN DOWN.—By a sudden gust of wind which "cavorted" through town last evening about dark, several tall iron chimneys were blown down. One at the corner of C and Taylor streets broke a telegraph wire.

OUR streets still hold their own in the way of slum. To keep the crossings in passable condition it requires about one man constantly employed at each with shovel and broom.

No business in the criminal line came up in Judge Hill's Court yesterday afternoon.

A HANDSOME ESTABLISHMENT.—Mr. E. Jackson's new millinery establishment in Crocker's new store, opposite Wells, Fargo & Co.'s, South C street, is the handsomest in town. His show window attracts the admiring gaze of all who pass, except, perhaps, the gaze of most young men which is rather beyond the window and has for its object the handsome young shop-woman who presides over the dainty stock everywhere so enticingly displayed. The new store is the best lighted and neatest Mr. Jackson has yet had in the city, and we think it is likely to become the most popular establishment of the kind in town once the ladies become aware of the low prices which are the rule there. It is a safe bet that in passing his place nine ladies of every ten will stop before his window to admire the handsome things therein displayed and to cast a hasty glance at the tempting show-cases within.

NEW CONFECTIONERY AND COFFEE SALOON.—By a notice under the head of "New To-day," it will be seen that Messrs. Bornholdt & Scipio, who have had much experience in New York, Boston and San Francisco in the largest bakeries and confectionery establishments, have opened a confectionery and coffee establishment on South C street, opposite the Magnolia. They solicit orders for fancy cakes and candies, and are confident of being able to give satisfaction in whatever they undertake.

BOOTS AND SHOES CHEAPER THAN EVER.—Mr. Gundlach, opposite the ENTERPRISE Building, is now selling boots and shoes and everything in his line cheaper than such goods have ever before been sold in this city. His stock embraces every style of goods from the commonest to the finest and most fashionable. As he desires to make room for his new Spring stock he will sell at prices so low as to astonish all who hear them named.

HOOK AND LADDER COMPANY NO. 1.—The regular monthly meeting of this company will be held at their hall this evening at half-past 7 o'clock. A full and prompt attendance is particularly requested, as business of vital importance will come before the meeting.

EMMET GUARD.—By an official notice in another column, it will be seen that all members of the Emmet Guard are requested to appear at their armory to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, March 6, at 7½ o'clock, sharp.

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

NEW YORK, March 4.

The Tribune alleges that some merchants who incriminated Government officials by their testimony before the Custom-house Investigation Committee, are now being subjected to vexatious suits. The seizure of the firm of Clark & Shultz, who are of this class, had their books overhauled in a manner which, the Tribune says, was suspicious if not positively outrageous.

Near Middletown, yesterday afternoon, one of the Erie freight trains ran into the rear of another and set fire to the caboose and a car loaded with flour, consuming both. The loss is about $4,000.

A quantity of silks, satins and laces, recently taken by burglars in Philadelphia, have been traced to Page's jewelry store of this city. Page and a suspected accomplice, named Walker, have been arrested.

CHICAGO, March 4.

A Washington special says the House Committee on Public Lands have agreed upon a bill for the improvement of our present land policy, of which the following points are given: The Pre-emption laws are to be abolished and the public lands settled under the Homestead Act, only subject to allowing soldiers to take up land and acquire a valid title without residing on it the required length of time. It was considered and deemed feasible, being only in fact issuing land script to this particular class. It is probable that the House Committee will recommend the reduction of time for actual residence in their case. The bill is quite voluminous, and is intended to correct many abuses now existing.

The committee have also agreed to meet for the purpose of considering the Bayfield and St. Croix land grant scheme, over which such a protracted struggle has just occurred in the House.

It is expected that the committee on the French arms investigation will be selected to-morrow. Three Administration Senators express the opinion to-night that a resolution to add Schurz to the committee in place of Sumner, who declined, will pass. Others, however, are opposing it strenuously.

ALBANY, March 4.

The Assembly Committee have agreed to report in favor of the repeal of the Erie Directors Classification Act.

WASHINGTON, March 4.

The New York Custom-house Investigating Committee assembled this morning. It was resolved to ask the Senate to appropriate $10,000 to pay for printing the testimony. The chairman caused to be read a letter from Attorney General Williams, dated February 21, addressed to Noah Davis, attorney for the Southern District of New York, stating that it appears from the testimony taken by the committee that certain persons have accepted presents, bribes or rewards from importers of merchandise. The attorney was therefore directed, by order of the President, to examine into the same, and if such persons have acted in violation of the law to take action in the premises with the view of prosecution without unnecessary delay. Mr. Davis asked that a copy of the testimony be furnished him, and also that the Secretary of the Treasury be requested to furnish such information in cases that may have come to his knowledge concerning smuggling, bribing, etc. Other letters were read, showing that the Grand Jury were ready to inquire into the charges, and that instructions had been given to the New York Collector of Customs to furnish all the information in his possession relative to smuggling and bribing. The committee ordered a copy of the testimony to be furnished.

General Porter was sworn and examined. He said he was now Secretary to the President and had been since his inauguration. He testified about Colonel Leet's pursuits before he became connected with the General Order business. After the inauguration, being desirous of leaving the army, he applied to the President for some position, and the President said he would appoint him Collector of Internal Revenue of New Orleans; but Leet declined that appointment, stating that the pay at New Orleans was too small, and his wife objected to go there. Leet having informed him that he was about to apply for the labor business in New York, General Porter endeavored to dissuade him from doing so, telling him that any person about the President entering into such employment would be subject to constant personal attacks. He advised Leet to go into some private business. A proposition had been made by Cameron to Leet, to become manager of the Lochiel Iron Works. General Porter said to Leet that he had heard the President, in general terms, express himself against the acceptance of public office, such as Leet sought. On the 28th of April General Porter accompanied the President to West Point, and on his return, wrote to Colonel Leet a letter as follows:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, May 4, 1870.—My Dear Leet: I do not like to be the bearer of bad news to you; but I think I ought to tell you what the President said: when he returned from New York. He remarked that he had heard so much about corruption in Custom-house jobs, and influence brought to bear in getting positions, etc., that he would never appoint any one who had been around him to a position in the Custom-house, no matter what his qualifications. In speaking about you, he said: 'I don't know who told him of an office that he ought to accept.' He said of Cameron's proposition, though he believes you as pure as any one, he would never consent to have you go to a Custom-house. He said attacks would be constant and injure both you and him. He feels just as I have always felt about such matters. You can now judge of the situation, and act accordingly.

Yours in great haste. (Signed) HORACE PORTER.

P. S.—He told me I could say this to you.

On the 7th of May Colonel Hilyer called at Porter's room and said that Leet and Mr. Howe were anxious to enter into partnership and obtain business in New York. General Porter informed him it would not be advisable for Leet to accept such business, as the President had expressed himself against Leet obtaining the General Order business from Grinnell. In the Spring of 1870, and also in the Spring of this year, he had no assistance from General Porter or the President in reference to any mess, so often alluded to. The most that Leet ever paid in one month was $59 46.

In reply to a question by the Chairman as to whether the mess received any interest from that business, General Porter replied, "None whatever."

Mudgett had declared that Porter was interested in the General Order business; but those he had given as authority for the declaration had disowned the same, and thus Porter says Mudgett was left as the reviler.

On the 3d of May, 1871, Grinnell wrote a letter to General Porter, in which he said: "I know that you are not in any way interested in any contract given out here, and neither you nor any other person about the Executive Mansion has ever intimated a desire to be so interested."

In answer to a question, Porter said Leet was not a connection of the President or of his wife, and that General Rawlings asked the President to give Leet a letter to Grinnell.

On cross-examination Porter said Grinnell made him an individual present of five gallons of sherry. It was used by the mess. He had no information that any other persons were interested with Leet & Stocking. He himself never had any partnership with either of them. He had never solicited any business for them and never did anything that would entitle him to their gratitude. They had never given him money or other valuable consideration. They had never had the effrontery to offer it, knowing him too well to make such a proposition.

The following letters were read, at the instance of the witness:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, July 13, 1870.—Dear Sir: You are about to enter upon the duties of Collector of Customs of New York. Many persons in seeking office, may use the President's name or mine in urging their claims. I wish to state to you distinctly, at the outset, that no one is authorized to do so. Many friends of mine, whom I should be very glad to oblige, have importuned me to write you letters in their behalf, but I have persistently refused to add to your present embarrassment. By so doing you will never hear from me on the subject of office. My only desire is to see you so distribute the patronage of your office as to render efficient service to the country and the cause of the Administration. Yours very truly,

HORACE PORTER.

To Hon. Thos. Murphy, Collector of Customs of New York.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, October 31, 1870.—Dear Sir: I am directed by the President to forward you the marked portion of the inclosed newspaper articles. While the President does not, for a moment, suppose that you ever uttered the language it imputes to you, he deems it well to take this opportunity to say that if any persons have been employed in the Custom-house upon representations that they are his particular friends or favorites, he hopes they may be discharged, and that if any persons ever apply for positions under you upon such pretense, he requests that they may not be employed.

Respectfully yours, HORACE PORTER.

To Hon. Thomas Murphy, Collector of Customs, New York.

As to the letter given by the President to Leet, addressed to Grinnell, General Porter said that Leet stepped out of the President's room and showed it to him. It was understood some days before that Grinnell was to be Collector of the port of New York. Leet gave him the impression that he was going into the warehouse business and wanted Grinnell to send Government stores to him. He did not know the precise terms, but it must have had reference to the General Order business.

Senator Bayard inquired of Porter whether he and Mr. Catherwood dined together at Willard's with Grinnell when the General Order system was discussed before Grinnell's appointment to office.

Porter replied that he did not recollect, but it was possible. He, however, remembered dining twice with Grinnell at Willard's. He did not recollect whether Catherwood and General Babcock were there, nor did he recollect that Leet was there. He, however, could say that Senator Wilson and Blatchford were present. He did not recollect whether or not the General Order business was discussed. He did not know when Leet went to New York. After receiving President Grant's letter Leet did not tell him that he had met with a success further than to say that Grinnell was very polite to him and promised to assist him in the business. There was nothing subsequently to show that there had been a large accession to Leet's wealth. He had only a speaking acquaintance with him of but two or three times. He did not know that Stocking had visited the Executive Mansion. He did not know that Stocking had an interest with Leet for bidding for a labor contract.

Having been asked whether, in the Summer of 1871, there was an interview between A. T. Stewart and the President at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, General Porter replied that he recollected it. Stewart complained of alleged abuses of the General Order system. He supposed the President had some knowledge of these affairs, as he (Porter) had, but did not know with certainty. He had a conversation with Stewart on the subject, but could not say whether it was before or after Stewart's conversation with the President.

General Porter having been interrogated as to the correspondence between Leet and Lindsay, touching the acquisition of San Domingo and the speculations therewith, said that he had no knowledge of such speculations. He never had social intercourse with Lindsay and never spent an evening at his house.

General Porter was interrogated at great length. In answer to a question by Pratt, he said the President's letter to Leet was a general letter of introduction and was written before Grinnell's appointment to the Collectorship.

During a cross-examination by Casserly, Porter mentioned several interviews with Leet in Washington. They had spoken of the amount of lying by witnesses in New York. General Porter came to the committee room to examine the testimony in which his name had been mentioned to see if misstatements had been made, in order to refute or correct them.

General Porter was under examination for more than five hours.

The committee adjourned to meet at noon to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, March 4.

The Japanese Embassy were presented to the President to-day and a complimentary speech was made by the Japanese Minister introducing the Embassy, followed by an address from Iwakura and a response by President Grant. The members of the Cabinet were present, together with all the army and naval dignitaries in full uniform, also, Vice President Colfax, Speaker Blaine, etc.

The following address of the Embassadors to the President was delivered by Iwakura: His Majesty, the Emperor of Japan, our august sovereign, has sought, since the achievement of our national reconstruction, to obtain a more perfect organization. In the administrative power of his Government he has studied with interest the results obtained by western nations. Having a sincere desire to establish permanent and friendly relations with foreign Powers on a still closer footing, he has commissioned to the United States his Embassadors Extraordinary and to all the Powers having treaties with Japan. Upon the soil of your country we first present our credentials, delivering to you personally the letter of our august sovereign at this public official audience. The object of the mission with which we are charged by our Government are somewhat set forth in this letter. We are authorized to consult with your Government on all international questions, directing our efforts to promote and develop wide commercial relations and draw into closer bonds the strong friendship already existing between our respective people. Thus we hope to gain a fresh impulse in the paths of progress, gaining from every form of civilization. This we shall aim to do, while in the exercise of a strict integrity to our own national interests, so trustingly confided by a generous sovereign, and shall earnestly hope to receive your kind co-operation in facilitating the task assigned us by our Government. We will gladly avail ourselves of this happy meeting to convey personally to your Excellency our sincere wishes for your continued prosperity and happiness, and as national representatives we extend the same wish to all the people of the United States."

The President then responded: "Gentlemen: I am gratified that this country and that my administration will be distinguished in history as the first which has received an Embassy from a nation which with us were the first to establish diplomatic and commercial intercourse. The objects which you say have given rise to your mission do honor to the intelligence and wisdom of your sovereign and reflect credit on you, in having been chosen as instruments for carrying them into effect. They must be regarded as gone, never to return, when any nation can keep apart from all others, and expect to enjoy prosperity and happiness, which depend more or less upon the mutual adoption of improvement not only in the science of Government, but in those other sciences and arts which contribute to the dignity of mankind and to national wealth and power. Though Japan is one of the most ancient of organized communities, and the United States ranks among the most recent, we flatter ourselves that we have made some improvements on the political institutions of the nations from whom we are descended. Our experience leads us to believe that the wealth, power and happiness of a people are advanced by their encouragement of trade and commercial intercourse with other Powers; by the elevation and dignity of labor; by the practical adaption of science to manufactures and arts; by the increased facilities of frequent and rapid communication between different parts of the country; by the encouragement of emigration, which brings with it varied habits and divers genius and industry of other lands; by a free press; by the freedom of thought and conscience and liberal toleration in matters of religion, not only to citizens but to all foreigners resident among us. It will be a pleasure to us to enter on that consultation on international questions in which you say you are authorized to engage. The improvement of commercial relations between our respective countries is important and desirable, and cannot fail to strengthen the bonds which unite us. I will heartily co-operate in so desirable an object. Your kind wishes for me personally, gentlemen, are cordially reciprocated. I trust that your abode with us may be agreeable to you and may contribute to a more intimate acquaintance and intercourse between our respective people."

The utmost interest was manifested by the large company present, in these exercises.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies a formal introduction was given to the officials present, those representing the several departments, being presented in groups to the strangers.

At the conclusion of the courtesies, the members of the Embassy were escorted into the Blue Parlor, to be introduced to the ladies of the Executive Mansion and the Cabinet officers' families, together with others who had been invited to be present.

The President, with Iwakura on his arm, led the way, followed by the Cabinet officers escorting other members of the Embassy.

Some time was passed in the Blue Parlor in exchange of social courtesies, an interpreter being present to assist in the conversation.

RUSE DE GUERRE.

There's a beggar standing at the door, Therese,
A child with a hungry eye;
His feet are bare on the icy street,
Yet they must not come more nigh.
Cold drives the sleet,
Yet the begger must not come nigh.

Go tell him of palaces near, Therese,
Where his weary limbs may repose;
Where the banquet halls are richer than mine,
With couches of purple and rose,
So fine, so fine,
Purple and amber and rose.

Will he none of your counsel take, Therese?
Then harken to what I say—
For now by stratagem foul or fair
The beggar must go his way;
No sleep—no prayer,
Till the beggar is on his way.

Go empty the plates from the board, Therese,
And scatter the viands about;
And the last red drop from the cordial cup
Drain out, good child, drain out;
For how can he sup
When the viands and cordial are out?

Quench all the beautiful lamps, Therese,
Break every heart-string sweet;
Heap ice on the fire till it floods the floor
And drips at the beggar's feet;
Under the door,
Drips at his waiting feet.

Is everything done, as I said, Therese?
Then open the house-door wide;
O, colder and darker than any street,
He never will come inside;
Poor feet! poor feet!
They never will come inside.

A BILL for the relief of Benjamin Vanniman, of Green county, Ohio, was presented and passed in Congress February 10. The claimant in September, 1864, placed two 10-40 bonds of $500 each in a pair of old pantaloons and locked them up in an unused closet for safety. A fortnight afterwards he went to get the bonds, but found only small fragments and a nest or two of healthy young rats in warm and costly nests.

THE WEEKLY ENTERPRISE.

WEEKLY

TERRITORIAL ENTERPRISE

New Series, Commenced June 16, 1866

THE WEEKLY ENTERPRISE.

THE double-sheet WEEKLY ENTERPRISE—each number containing Forty-eight columns of choice reading-matter—is now in its Fourth Volume, and the popular favor with which it has thus far met induces the publisher to present its claims more conspicuously to the public.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

THE WEEKLY ENTERPRISE is compiled with special reference to its circulation in the East. The "Pen and Scissors" columns of the Daily—which embrace a complete record of events in the Pacific States and Territories—are collected in the Weekly under the head of "Pacific Coast News," constituting the amplest summary of domestic intelligence published by any journal on the Coast.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE WEEKLY ENTERPRISE contains an entire page of the principal Local Items appearing in the Daily, carefully selected and arranged under their respective dates, and forming a complete weekly review of local topics and events.

MINING AND MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

THE WEEKLY ENTERPRISE also contains the latest Review of the Mining Share Market, the latest Stock Quotations, a full record of Births, Marriages and Deaths, the Virginia Letter List, San Francisco, Overland and Domestic Telegraphic Dispatches, Editorials, a careful compilation of Detailed Eastern News, besides choice selections of Poetry and Miscellany.

SEND IT HOME.

Persons who desire to send some token of remembrance to distant friends, or who wish to keep them posted in regard to our local and Pacific Coast matters, should have the WEEKLY ENTERPRISE mailed to them regularly. The cost is inconsiderable, while it obviates the necessity of frequent correspondence and furnishes more information concerning general local affairs than could be given by the most unremitting and voluminous letter-writing.

CIRCULATE IT GENERALLY.

Those who are anxious to disseminate correct information regarding the resources, products and prospects of Nevada and the adjoining States and Territories, should send abroad the WEEKLY ENTERPRISE, as its columns present a complete reflex of the industrial, social and political condition of the Pacific Coast.

☞ Call and examine specimen copies at the Publication Office of the Daily and Weekly Territorial Enterprise, No. 24 South C street, Virginia.

LEGAL NOTICES.

DISTRICT COURT, FIRST JUdicial District, Storey County, Nevada.—In the Matter of the Estate of GEORGE DUTTENHOFFER, deceased.

It appearing to the Judge of this Court by the petition presented and filed by Lewis Duttenhoffer, the Administrator of said Estate, and Charles Baker, surviving partner of said deceased, praying for an order to sell real estate and personal property, that it is necessary to sell the whole of the interest of said deceased in the real and personal property of said partnership, to pay and discharge the debts and liabilities of said partnership:

It is therefore ordered by the Judge of said Court that all persons interested in said Estate appear before the said District Court, at the Court-house, on B street, in the city of Virginia, county of Storey, on SATURDAY, the 30th day of March, A. D. 1872, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, to show cause why an order should not be granted to the said Administrator to sell the said real and personal estate of said deceased.

And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks in the DAILY TERRITORIAL ENTERPRISE, a newspaper printed and published in said city and county.

RICHARD RISING, District Judge.
